There are places I'll remember
All my life, though some have changed
Some forever, not for better
Some have gone, and some remain
All these places had their moments
With lovers and friends I still can recall
Some are dead and some are living
In my life, I've loved them all.

 The sun he comes the world to soften up.
 Rejoice, rejoice, we have no choice but to carry on.
 The fortunes of fables are able to sing a song,

P. A. Patton

W. ROBERT ELISHA

Don't confuse "duty" with that of which other people expect of you; they are totally different. Duty is a debt you owe to yourself to fulfill obligations you have assumed voluntarily. Paying that debt can entail anything from years of patient work to instant willingness to die. Difficult, it may be, but the reward is self respect. There is no reward at all for doing what other people expect of you, and to do so, is not merely difficult but impossible.

So learn to say NO—otherwise you will not have the time to carry out your duty or to do your own work and certainly no time for love and happiness. The termites will nibble away your life and leave none of it for you.

"What I would like to do is use the time that is coming now to talk about some things that have come to mind. We're in such a hurry most of the time we never get a chance to talk. The result is a kind of endless day-to-day shallowness, a monotony that leaves a person wondering years later where all the time went and sorry that it's all gone."

"The most beautiful and most profound emotion we can experience is the sensation of the mystical. It is the sower of all true science. He to whom this emotion is a stranger, who can no longer wonder and stand rapt in awe, is as good as dead. To know that what is impenetrable to us really exists, manifesting itself as the highest wisdom and the most radiant beauty which our dull faculties can comprehend only in their most primitive forms—this knowledge, this feeling is at the center of true religiousness."

ALBERT EINSTEIN

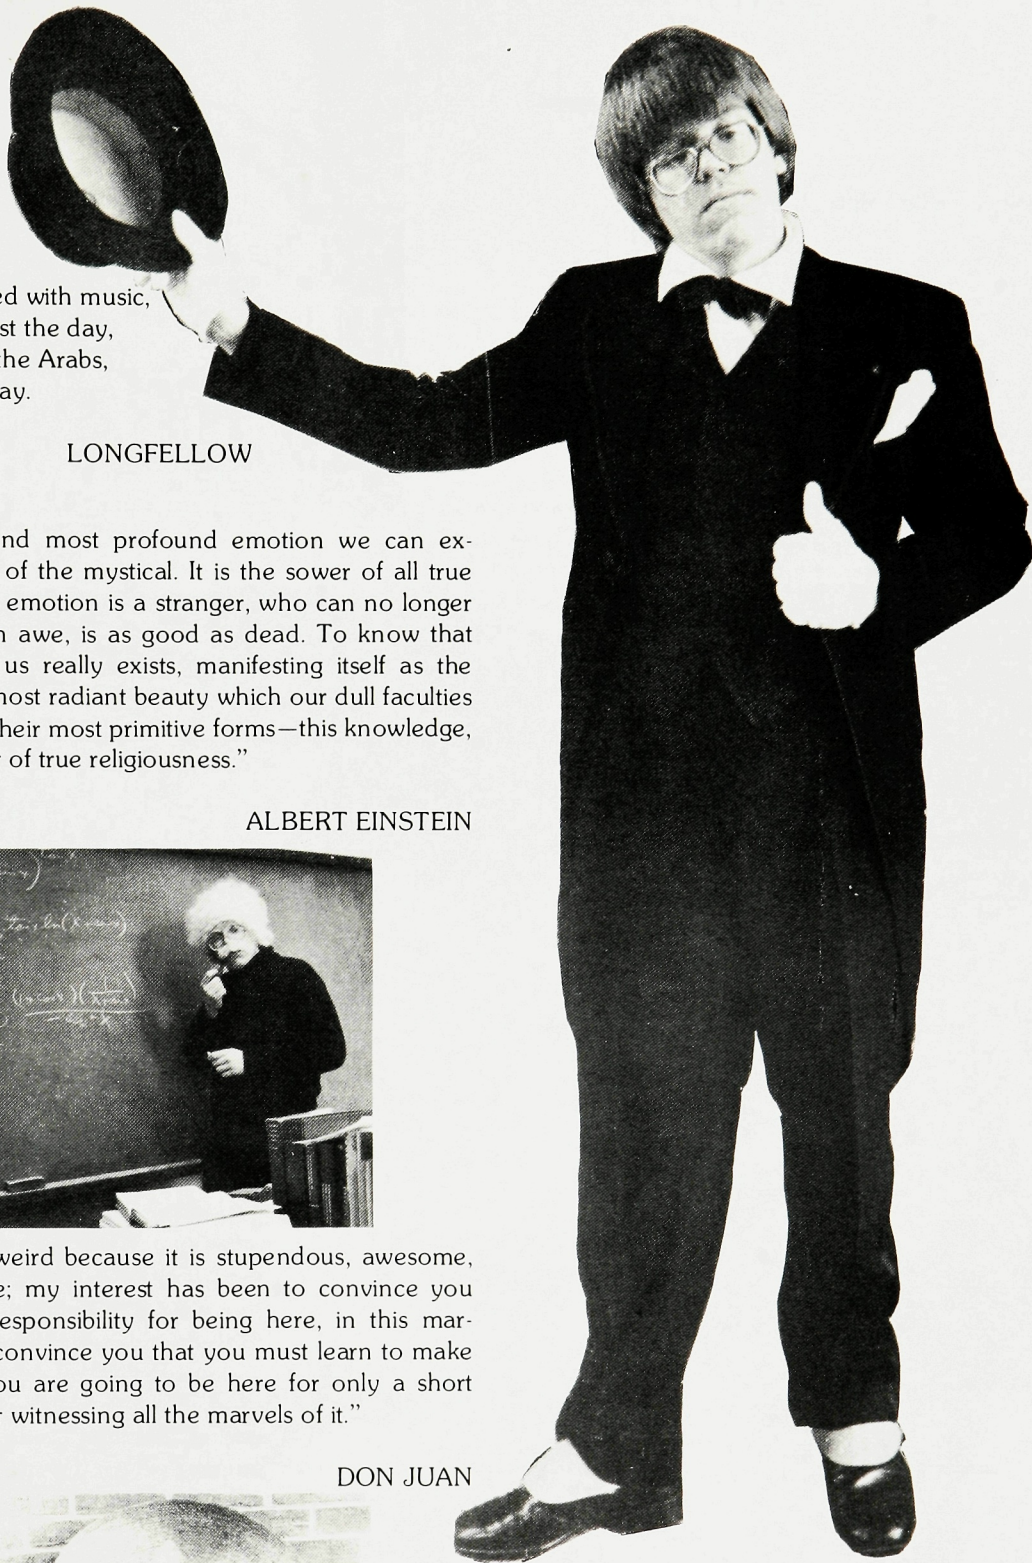

"For me the world is weird because it is stupendous, awesome, mysterious, unfathomable; my interest has been to convince you that you must assume responsibility for being here, in this marvelous time. “Waiting for Godot”

If one man only out of millions once in a thousand years had the power of acting freely, that is, as he chose, it is obvious that a single free act of that man in opposition to the laws governing human action would destroy the possibility of any laws whatever governing all humanity.

—Tolstoy, “War and Peace”

...I return to that terrible statement of Bertrand Russell’s “Better Red than dead.” Why did he not say it would be better to be brown than dead? There is no difference. All my life and the life of my generation, the life of those who share my views, we all have had one viewpoint: Better to be dead than a scoundrel. In this horrible expression of Bertrand Russell’s there is an absence of all moral criteria. Looked at from a short distance, these words allow one to maneuver and to continue to enjoy life. But from a long-term point of view it will undoubtedly destroy those people who think like that.

Your children are not your children.
They are the sons and daughters of Life's longing for itself
They come through you but not from you, and though they are with you yet they belong not to you.

You may give them your Love but not your thoughts,
For they have their own thoughts.
You may house their bodies but not their souls,
For their souls dwell in the house of tomorrow, which you cannot visit, not even in your dreams.

You may strive to be like them, but seek not to make them like you,
For life goes not backward nor tarries with yesterday.

You are the bows from which your children as living arrows are sent forth.

The Buddha Once Told This Parable...

There was once a man who was crossing a field and met a tiger. Running, he came to a great cliff and caught hold of a root and swung over the side of the cliff. But at the bottom of this cliff was another tiger.

Soon two little mice came along and began to gnaw on the vine. The man looked in terror at the tiger below. But then he saw a strawberry vine. He picked the strawberry and ate it. How delicious it was.

Only after having been in High School for quite a time do I realize that all the people on the Dan Ryan and the Ike and the Edens and everywhere else at 9:00 and all the people crowding the city streets aren't just beings, they're real people with real problems, real lives, and real identities.

The whole 9 to 5 world is referred to as the "Rat Race". A lot of people think that that's the real world. Everybody has to break into that world to make it. Break into the nation's work force. But there's other ways to make a world for yourself. That is to do what you feel good doing, whether anybody else approves or not. If they don't like it, ask them if they're really happy doing what they're doing.

Either by your peers' experience or by your own, find what looks good to you, and give it a try. Break into the Rat Race or your own lifestyle, but get broken in and enjoy yourself.

Life can be confusin'

In the heart of your heart, there's the tiniest part of an urge to live to the death—
with your sword on your hip and a cry
on your lips
to strike life in the inner child's breast.

Strike another match, go start anew.
It's all over now, baby blue.

PROPHECY

Class of 1977

Imagine it's June 15, 1997 and we're at the opening of Jodi Hirschtritt's new art gallery. The artists exhibiting are Josh Soffer and his miniatures and hand and window series, Sarah Patton's beautiful pottery and Sue Bransfield's photographs of very beautiful but strange mountain goats in Arab countries. Tahir Fatah and renowned playboy Bob Peters are among the judges. The gallery was tastefully designed and lighted by John Wilking.

Invited to this posh party are a myriad of socialities. Leading the crowd is Bob Elisha, promoting his new movie "Bobby" which is about a suburban pinball wizard. Here, arm in arm, come Kathy Lewis, famous dress designer, and David Rothschild of Dapper and Dapper of Beverly Hills. Milling in the crowd are Anita Dalmar, star of the new hit soap opera "Yesterday's Mistakes", comparing notes with Jane Berliss, author of the soon to be released series on local stations "Judy, Judy, Judy".

Cheryl Ann Smutny is here, still starry-eyed over her 1980 Miss America title. You recall her nimble fingers on the harp. When asked the single most important attribute of an individual, she replied, "to be mature in every situation". Oh my, would you believe, ————there's John Strauss and Leslie Spira. The former is a retired tennis star now developing a new underwater family game called aqua-tennis. Miss Spira, with pad in hand, is author of the well known column, "Everybody's Critic" which is published daily in Al Siewer's newspaper, "The Washington Hoc".

In a corner chatting are Jimmy the Greek's successor Paul "the Ukranian" Kogut who has successfully predicted the market for 90 days straight and Amy Van Hooser, full of North Shore news. You know, she is a member of the French department there.

Here comes Lauren Stone straight from Opry Land in her red satin cowgirl shirt and silver studded cowgirl boots. And there's Dan Pritzker who we've learned is leading a nationwide campaign to revive the Dead.

Here are a couple of telegrams..... one from David Sahlin asking "Why the devil did she open up a gallery?" Here's another from Jane Alexander who is busy with the opening of her very own salad bar. She wires "Whatever happened in the tree house?"

Oh joy! Making their entrance and shaking hands, the politicians are arriving. Shelley Spencer, nationwide President of WAPA - Women's Athletic Projects Assoc., walks in with Lucy Yee, newly appointed Ambassador to Italy. Upstaging Yee is Astrid Newenhouse, Secretary of Agriculture, and Katherine Franke, leader of Operation Pull.

Here's another Telegram. This one is from Frances Dunseth. She writes: "I'm coming!" Several other VIPs who are unable to join us tonight but send their best regards include: Scott Knowlton, well known ornithologist, who is continuing to search for the Red Red Robin, Charlie Colbert, busy covering the 26th Olympiad in Uganda and Dan Deuble, who is graciously accepting an award at the baseball Hall of Fame. Speaking of athletes, I see Mark Kraft, Judo champion, passing cheese puffs to Derrick Nedzel, ski instructor.

A couple of prize winning inventors are with us tonight. Bob Smargon, recent developer of an alternative to Spam for camping trips, is talking to Bill Thompson, transistor specialist.

Better late than never, Joel Feinstein is arriving directly from distant Iceland after winning the World Chess Championship in two moves.

In the poets corner are Suzanne Kjellenberg, author of a new poetry collection entitled, "Transylvania's Courthouse", and Anne Hines, who has just published her new book "Life with Mother". Joining them are Susan Williams who is promoting her new line of health clubs in Anchorage, Juneau, Fairbanks and Nome, and Mark Sargis, alerting everyone of his chain of Heir Sargis Salons, specializing in beard transplants.

Others unable to make an appearance this evening are: Matthew Wells, who is following in Thor Hyerdol's shoes by attempting to sail around the world in an L. L. Bean boot, and Steve Walter who sends a singing telegram from London as he is appearing with the D'Oyly Carle Opera Company there.

Jodi wants to thank Mike Lipman and his Rose Lips Health Food Store for the catering, and Roman Balderas for the limousines. Remember, all roads lead to Roman. A special thanks goes to Sister Cameron Macdonald and her group Sha Na Nun for the entertainment. Oh, there's Caroline Schnering passing the plate, still trying to collect $2 from each member of the class.

Well, this has been a most successful opening with so many of this illustrious group in attendance. Can you imagine how even more amazing they will be in another twenty years!
